

A 21st Century Retelling of Clement Moore's Classic Poem: A Tale of Sleighs, Screens, and Santa's Social Media Savvy

'Twas the night before Christmas, and all through the town

Not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse;

The stockings were hung by the chimney with care,

In hopes that St. Nicholas soon would be there.

But this was no ordinary Christmas Eve.

In the age of iPhones and social media feeds,

Santa had made some upgrades to his sleigh and his deeds.

Instead of reindeer, a Tesla so bright,

Guided by GPS, soaring through the night.

With a smartphone in hand and a Wi-Fi connection,

Santa's navigation reached a new dimension.

Down the chimneys he went, with a jolly old grin,

But this Santa was wired, connected to the spin.

He snapped selfies with children, a festive array,

And posted them live on his TikTok display.

The presents he left were not just toys,

But gadgets and gizmos, making girls and boys

Squeal with delight and eyes filled with glee,

As they unboxed the latest tech with a digital decree.

The tree sparkled with fairy lights and a glow,

But also with smart bulbs that changed color on the go.

Alexa, Siri, and Google Assist,

Helped Santa out with his Christmas list.

As the night wore on, and the stars shone so bright,

Santa worked tirelessly, with all his might.

But with a touch of a button, he summoned his sleigh,

And with a "Merry Christmas to all, and to all a good night,"

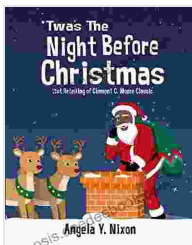

He ascended the sky, leaving behind a trail of cheer,

A 21st century Santa, dispelling all fear.

For in this digital age, Santa had found his way,

To bring joy to the world in a new and modern way.

Merry Christmas to all, and to all a good night!
