Oslo

Oslo is the capital of Norway and its largest city. It is a vibrant and cosmopolitan city with a rich history and culture. Oslo is home to a number of world-class museums, including the Viking Ship Museum, the Munch Museum, and the National Museum of Norway. The city also has a thriving arts and music scene, with a number of theaters, concert halls, and galleries.

Some of the best things to do in Oslo include:

- Visiting the Viking Ship Museum, which houses a collection of well-preserved Viking ships that were discovered in the 19th century.
- Exploring the Munch Museum, which is home to a large collection of works by the famous Norwegian artist Edvard Munch, including his iconic painting "The Scream."
- Spending an afternoon at the National Museum of Norway, which houses a collection of Norwegian art, history, and culture.
- Taking a walk through the Oslo Opera House, which is a stunning modern building that is home to the Norwegian National Opera and Ballet.
- Going for a boat ride on the Oslo Fjord, which offers beautiful views of the city and its surroundings.

Bergen

Bergen is Norway's second-largest city and is located on the west coast of the country. Bergen is known for its beautiful scenery, its charming old town, and its vibrant cultural scene. The city is home to a number of historical landmarks, including the Bryggen Wharf, the Bergenhus Fortress, and the Rosenkrantz Tower. Bergen is also a popular destination for outdoor enthusiasts, as it is surrounded by mountains, fjords, and glaciers.

Some of the best things to do in Bergen include:

- Exploring the Bryggen Wharf, which is a UNESCO World Heritage Site and is home to a collection of colorful wooden buildings that date back to the Hanseatic period.

- Visiting the Bergenhus Fortress, which is a medieval fortress that was built to protect the city from attack.
- Climbing the Rosenkrantz Tower, which offers panoramic views of the city and its surroundings.
- Taking a boat trip to the Sognefjord, which is Norway's longest and deepest fjord.
- Going for a hike in the surrounding mountains, which offer stunning views of the fjords and glaciers.
